

Camberwell Winter Festival

CAMBERWELL
ARTS EST. 1994

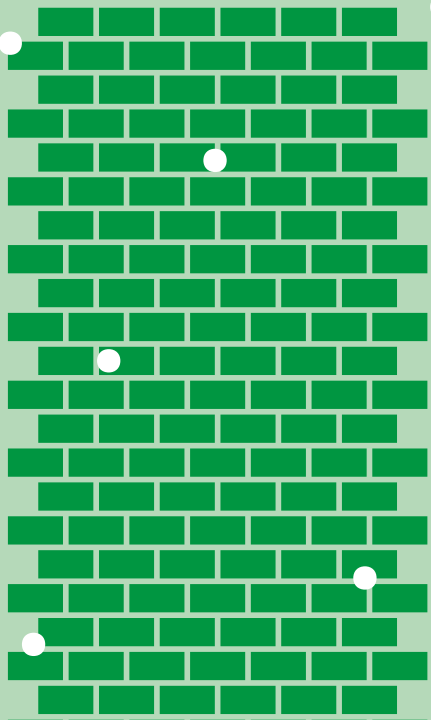

Winter Art Market &
Winter Open Studios

26th Nov
- 18th Dec

We're showcasing Camberwell's artists, designers and makers so you can shop local this winter.

Home to an eclectic mix of artists, Camberwell is a hotspot for discovering creative talent. The annual Camberwell Winter Festival is a unique opportunity to meet and buy direct from the makers and source one-of-a-kind gifts that are locally-produced.

Designed to light up the darkest time of the year, this annual celebration of the SE5 art scene never fails to radiate colour and creativity across Camberwell. So whether you're looking for traditional decorations, cutting-edge art or winter wardrobe must-haves, we hope you'll join us for a festive frolic through our fantastic arts scene.

Winter Art Market

Outdoor Art Market

Camberwell Green, SE5
Saturday 26th November
10am - 4pm

Once again, our Winter Festival kicks off with an outdoor art market on Camberwell Green showcasing work by local artists, designers and makers.

Taking place alongside Camberwell Farmers' Market, serving hot food and drinks, the Camberwell Winter Art Market will help you discover local artists, unearth handmade treasures, and pick up unique gifts, cards and decorations at affordable prices.

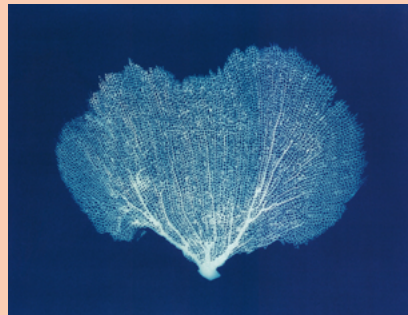

Indoor Art Market

St Giles Church, Camberwell Church St, SE5
Saturday 17th December
10am - 4pm

We're delighted to bring you a second market this year, so you can search for Christmas inspiration in the beautiful surroundings of St Giles Church, designed by George Gilbert Scott with stained glass windows by John Ruskin.

Join us to discover Christmas crafts and gorgeous gifts as we serve up a seasonal mix of art, design and decorations - with live music and a bar.

Winter Open Studios

Camberwell is one of London's most creative neighbourhoods and every winter our local artists open their homes and studios to showcase an extraordinary range of work.

From one-of-a-kind sculptures to stocking-fillers, collectable paintings to Christmas cards, these hidden havens reveal must-have artworks across every medium - and to suit every budget into the bargain.

Camberwell Open Studios runs across 2 weekends, from Saturday 26th November to Sunday 4th December, and studios are open from midday - 5pm unless otherwise indicated.

This is your opportunity to meet local artists and buy directly from the maker.

Entry to each venue is free. Enjoy!

LESLEY HILLING

Lesley Hilling is an English self taught artist living and working in south London. During a successful career as a graphic designer and illustrator, lasting over over thirty years, she was shortlisted for several awards including the Canon Digital Print Award and the Mitsubishi Digital Print Award and was also featured in The Best of British Illustration.

During this time Hilling became interested in a more art based practise and began to make box constructions heavily influenced by the work of Joseph Cornell and Louise Nevelson.

Lesley works solely with recycled materials. She finds her materials in skips and at car boot fairs. She is a member of Human Nature, a group of artists who care about the environment and share ideas about it that informs their work.

KALI FORBES

Kali Forbes blends natural, organic, fluid forms with abstract, contemporary shapes to create raw and earthy designs. Inspired by the contrast between natural and human-made objects, Kali's jewellery is timeless, and highlights how intrinsic nature is in art. Every flame, mark and polish that goes into making her jewellery has a single purpose: to create pieces you form an emotional connection with. Her works are conscious and considerate to the earth throughout their creation, with collections made from recycled, ethically-sourced, responsible materials.

ANDREW MATHESON

Andy is an expressionist landscape painter. It starts with a feeling, a hope, a desire to make something. It could be a feeling of emptiness or an energy inspired by something seen. He makes marks using oil paint mostly and the one thing he will count on is colour. If it goes well it ends with a painting. If it goes badly it ends with a painting.

PETER ANTHONY COOKE

I would like to quote from something which John Piper said in 1950 ' My aims in painting are to express a personal love of country and architecture, humanity that inhabits them, and to increase my own understanding and nourish my own love of the work of other painters of the past and present'. Peter is an architect, and hopes that his watercolours and etchings express the same spirit as a quote from John Piper.

Seasonal Shows

Camberwell puts on a great performance at Christmas so why not join in the festive fun at one of our great neighbourhood theatres? These selected seasonal shows start from just £3 for local residents and are suitable for all the family.

SCROOGELICIOUS

"Christmas is a coming, but one man isn't happy...Mention of the word makes him irritable and snappy!"

Theatre Peckham bring you a big-hearted production based on Dickens' classic A Christmas Carol, written by Geoffrey Aymer (script and lyrics) and Jordan Xavier (music). Feel-good, funny and full of joy, this cracker of a Christmas production fills the auditorium with music, mischief and merriment.

221 Havil Street, SE5 7SB | 1st - 23rd December | Various times | From £5 - £15
For further information, and to book, please visit www.theatrepeckham.co.uk

A TOSPY TURVY CHRISTMAS

Christmas is Robin's favourite time of year. But this year, nothing seems to be going right. Her dad isn't living with them anymore, and things get even more peculiar when she's transported inside one of her presents - a beautiful snow globe where her best friend is a Christmas tree and Santa is very unusual indeed...

Combining side-splitting comedy, audience interaction and a heart-warming message, this is a story about navigating change, listening to ourselves and finding Christmas magic, wherever you go. It's suitable for all the family, but aimed at ages 4 - 8 years.

Blue Elephant Theatre, 59A Bethwin Rd, SE5 OXT | 10th - 18th December, Saturdays & Sundays at 2pm | £5.00; £3.00 for Southwark residents | For further information, and to book, please visit www.blueelephanttheatre.co.uk

THE ELVES & THE SHOEMAKER

Full of festive fun, the Dot Collective return to Longfield Hall with an accessible and family-friendly production - bringing this classic Brothers Grimm story to life through music, puppetry and dance.

A struggling shoemaker awakes one morning to discover a perfect pair of shoes, already made, at his work table. Each morning the same mysterious occurrence takes place, helping him make his fortune. This story of hard work rewarded is the perfect winter treat with sing-along fun, crackers to pull and maybe a Christmas card from the cast!

Longfield Hall, 50 Knatchbull Road, SE5 9QY
9th - 11th December, 2pm / 4pm / 7.30pm
£14 / adult; £8 / child (free for under-3s)

Thank you

Thanks to the many local artists, cultural and community organisations who are taking part in this year's Winter Festival, and to those who've supported Camberwell Arts over the years.

The poster features a green background with white and orange geometric shapes. At the top, there are three logos: UFM (Urban Farmers Market Ltd) with a red and green apple, Southwark Council (southwark.gov.uk) in a white script font, and the Camberwell logo (a stylized orange sun) with the word 'CAMBERWELL' below it. The main title 'CAMBERWELL GREEN MARKET' is in large, bold, dark green letters. Below this, a white rounded rectangle contains the text 'EVERY SATURDAY' and '10am-3pm' in orange, with a holly leaf and berry icon above the text. To the left, a list of market activities is shown in dark green: 'Farmers' Market', 'Street Food', 'Craft Stalls', and 'Vintage Stalls'. To the right, an orange triangle contains the text 'Thank you to all our customers for supporting the weekly market' in white. At the bottom, an orange bar contains the website 'urban-farmers-market.co.uk' and social media icons for Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter. The text 'Supporting local farmers, producers and artisans' is written in dark green above the orange bar.
