WELCOME

...to the 21st Camberwell Arts Festival where we are celebrating the cultural feast that exists in SE5. Tuck into exhibitions, open studios, comedy, poetry, music, talks, walks, supperclubs and markets.

With 5 commissions and 10 picnic benches extending into the far reaches of the community, this year's festival is not to be missed.

We look forward to welcoming you to our cultural feast!

COMMISSIONS

Camberwell Arts are delighted to commission 5 artists to create new work for Feast. From sweet trails to art takeaways, our selected artists invite you to sink your teeth into art in all its forms.

Amanda Holiday “Din Din”
50 plate collages relating to a fiction of modern eating in an age of austerity and food-banks.

Shannon Lane “Fit for a King”
A porcelain white pig's head with a 24carat golden apple, surrounded by golden vegetables.

Tom Leighton “A-Z Sweetie Trail”
Follow the photographic clues on a sweetie trail around SE5.

Frog Morris “Camberwell Family Gin Palace”
Help create colourful stained glass windows for a Camberwell shop using sweet wrappers.

Kay Sentence “Art Takeaway”
You choose, we share, you take-art-away.

Find out more about our commissions at www.camberwellarts.org.uk

PICNIC BENCHES

Michael Burkitt, Marc Cowan, Andrew Ekins, Matthew McGuinness, Sophie Herxheimer, Kids Company, Laura Pedroni, Jack Tatham, NKIRUKA & Nick Williamson.

10 artists will customise 10 picnic tables into a feast of public artworks adding colour & creativity to some of SE5's parks, estates & public spaces. They'll be used for events during the festival & for years to come.

Thanks to Southwark Council Neighbourhood Fund, Awards for All, Hunters & Haart of Camberwell Green & Dulwich.

Locate your nearest table on our website: www.camberwellarts.org.uk
